

8.10

Selling your products on the telephone

Worksheet

Student A: Supplier

You will describe your real-life products to a potential customer on the telephone. First tell your partner what type of product/service you are going to talk about, and give him/her some typical questions to ask you. Then receive Call 1.

Call 1 Receive a call from a potential customer who is interested in your products. Try to persuade the customer to buy your product/use your service.

A few days later ...

Call 2 Receive a call from the same customer.

Student B: Customer

You are interested in your partner's real-life products/services and will call him/her on the telephone to find out more information. First prepare the call by talking to your partner and filling in the information below. Then make Call 1.

Type of product/service you will ask about: _____

Question 1 _____

Question 2 _____

Question 3 _____

Call 1 Make a call to your partner. Find out about his/her company, products, prices and terms. Do not make any decision yet – other suppliers have similar products and your boss will make the final decision.

A few days later ...

Call 2 Make a call to the supplier. Your boss has decided not to buy this product/use this service at the moment. Apologize. You will contact them again in the future if the situation changes.

