

2.14

Dialogue building: phone call

Worksheet

Write a short telephone dialogue.

The worksheet is designed for writing a telephone dialogue. It features two columns of eight empty rectangular boxes each. Arrows point from the boxes in the left column to the boxes in the right column, indicating a sequence of dialogue turns. The arrows start from the right side of the first box in the left column and point to the left side of the first box in the right column. This pattern repeats for each subsequent box, with arrows pointing from the right side of the left column box to the left side of the right column box.

