T: Hello, welcome to Toronto! I'm Emily, one of the local staff members here at the consulate. It's great to have you here, Taro.

S: Hi Emily, nice to meet you. Thank you for arranging this dinner. It all looks great. So, what do you do at the embassy?

T: Well, my role involves assisting with various administrative tasks at the consulate, such as processing visa applications and organizing events. I also work closely with Japanese businesses in Toronto, providing support for their operations and helping them navigate local regulations.

S: It sounds interesting. I'm here for a few days. What can I do on the weekend?

T: On weekends, I like to explore the city and discover new restaurants. Toronto has a vibrant food scene, and I enjoy trying out different cuisines. I also enjoy outdoor activities like hiking and biking when the weather is nice.

S: That's great. Toronto seems like a wonderful place to explore...

I hope you are well. I saw your listing for the apartment at 113 Oak Road on your website, and I am very interested in viewing it. I would like to schedule an appointment at a convenient time.

I am looking for a one-bedroom apartment close to a train station, preferably near the city center. My budget is around two thousand dollars per month. I would also like a place with a kitchen and good natural light.

If you have any other apartments that match my needs, please let me know. I would like to compare a few options before making a decision.

Please let me know a suitable time for the viewing. Thank you for your help.

Best regards,
Taro Suzuki

T: Yes, of course. We all do. At the same time though, we need to make sure his work is covered.

S: I see.

T: So, this morning I would like to talk about the options. As far as I can see, there aren't many.

S: Well, no, I guess not. I mean, there are just four staff in the consulate section. So, the three of us will have to take on his work.

T: Yes, that's right. How do you want to handle it?

S: Well, I can do the back-end visa processing. However, I already have a lot of appointments over the next week. So, I can't meet the visa applicants.

T: Okay, well let me talk to Satomi. I think she could do that.

S: Great.

T: And what about the other admin tasks he usually does?

Dear Team,

I hope you are doing well.

As we discussed in our meeting today, we need to adjust the schedule while John is away. Since we have a small team, we all need to help with his work. After thinking about the options, we decided on this plan for the next few days.

Monday:

- Morning: Akiko
- Afternoon: Emily

Tuesday:

- Morning: David
- Afternoon: Emily

Wednesday:

- Morning: Akiko
- Afternoon: David

Thursday:

- Morning: Emily
- Afternoon: Akiko

Friday:

- Morning: David
- Afternoon: Emily

Please arrive on time for your shifts and check if anything needs to be done. If you have any problems or need to change shifts, let me know as soon as possible.

Thank you for your help. I appreciate your support.

S: Hello. This is the consular section.

T: Hello. This is Titus Potgeiter.

S: Hello Mr. Potgeiter What can I do for you?

T: I applied for a student visa for Japan. I submitted the application almost six weeks ago. I have not yet received the visa.

S: Okay. I will check our records... Okay. I see your application. Everything was done correctly.

T: That's right. I submitted all the required documents.

S: Okay. Student visa applications take about four weeks. They can sometimes take longer. I'm sorry for the delay.

T: I expected the visa would have arrived by now. I am expected at my college in Tokyo in two weeks, and I have already booked my flight.

S: I see. I understand the situation. All the documents were sent to immigration in Tokyo. They make the final decision.

T: I see. Can you let me know when I will get it?

S: I do not have an exact date. But I do not see a reason for the delay. Please wait a few more days. It should arrive soon.

T: Okay. Goodbye.

S: Goodbye.

S: Hello. Are you interested in Japanese summer festivals?

T: They look like fun. What's it like in Japan in summer.

S: Well, summer is from early June until late August. It can get hot and very humid. It's a great time to swim at the beach.

T: What are some famous summer activities?

S: Fireworks displays are common across Japan. But we have not had any for two years.

T: Why is that?

S: The coronavirus pandemic. We hope they will come back this year.

T: I see. So, what usually happens at a fireworks display?

S: Usually, many people go to a river or a lake. They can watch the fireworks there. And, it's warm because it's summer.

So, many people wear traditional clothes called jinbei and yukata. They are light and cool.

T: Can you eat during a fireworks display?

S: Yes. There are many street stalls. They sell festival food. The event takes about an hour. After, many people eat dinner together.

Title: Enjoy Japanese Summer Festivals

Summer in Japan is a time for exciting festivals called matsuri. These events bring people together to celebrate with music, dancing, and food. If you visit Japan in summer, you can see these wonderful traditions.

One famous festival is Gion Matsuri in Kyoto. It has big, colorful floats and a fun parade. Another exciting festival is Nebuta Matsuri in Aomori, where large lanterns light up the streets.

At festivals, people wear yukata (light cotton kimono) and enjoy street food like takoyaki (octopus balls) and yakisoba (fried noodles). At night, hanabi (fireworks) fill the sky with beautiful colors.

If you like dancing, you can join a bon odori festival. People of all ages dance in a circle to traditional music. It is a great way to have fun and meet new people.

Japanese summer festivals are full of culture, music, and delicious food. Plan your visit and enjoy the celebrations!

Dear Mr. McDermott,

I am happy to tell you that you have been chosen for the Japan-Australia Study Program this year. Congratulations! This is a great chance to study in Japan and experience life there.

You will study in Japan for one year with support from the Japanese government. They will pay for your school fees, place to stay, and daily costs, so you can focus on your learning and new experiences.

Your aunt in Kumamoto and your Japanese language skills will help you feel comfortable and settle quickly. We hope you will study hard, make new friends, and enjoy learning about Japan's culture and way of life.

We will send more details soon, including information about your travel and where you will stay. If you have any questions, please ask.

Title: Obon - A Time to Remember

Obon is a special time in Japan. It is when families remember and honor their ancestors. Many believe that the spirits of loved ones return during this time. Obon takes place in July or August, depending on the region.

During Obon, families visit the graves of their ancestors. They clean the graves and leave food, flowers, and incense. There are also summer festivals called bon matsuri. People enjoy bon odori (a traditional dance) and fireworks.

For me, Obon is important because I can see my family and join in old traditions. I enjoy dancing bon odori and eating festival food like yakitori and shaved ice.

I think Obon is a special holiday because it brings families together and helps us remember the past.

Subject: Friday Meeting Schedule Change

Dear Adam,

I hope you are well. I am writing about our meeting in Cape Town this Friday. I understand there are some issues, but I would like to keep the original plan.

This meeting is important because we need to discuss key points for the report. If we delay, it may be hard to finish on time. Also, I have already booked my flight and hotel, and canceling now could be difficult.

I understand your situation, but I hope we can go ahead as planned. Please let me know if this is possible.

Best regards,
Taro Suzuki

Subject: Visa Application Process for US Citizens

Dear Fiona,

Welcome to the consulate! As part of your training, I want to explain the visa application process for US citizens.

There are different types of visas, such as tourist visas, business visas, and student visas. People must apply at our consulate if they live in certain states, including Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

To apply, they need:

- A valid passport with blank pages.
- A visa application form, which they can get online or at our office.
- A recent passport photo.
- Extra documents based on the visa type (for example, a company letter for a business visa).

They can apply in person, by mail, or send someone for them.

Visa rules change sometimes, so always check the consulate's website for updates. Let me know if you have any questions!

Subject: Missing Luggage Report

Dear Airline Staff,

I am writing to report that one of my suitcases did not arrive at New York's airport today, after my flight from Narita Airport on March 15, 2024 (Flight NH010).

I checked in two suitcases at Narita Airport around 11:00 AM. Upon arrival at JFK Airport in New York at approximately 10:30 AM local time, only one suitcase arrived.

The missing suitcase is a large black suitcase, approximately 75 cm in height, with four wheels and a blue luggage strap around it. It also has a small white name tag with my contact details attached to the handle. I have attached a copy of my luggage check-in slip for your reference.

I am very concerned as the suitcase contains important documents and personal items needed urgently. Could you please help locate it as soon as possible?

Thank you very much for your assistance. Please let me know if you need any further information.

Roleplay 1 Model

- S: Hello John. Are you ready for today?
- T: Hi Taro. Sure. You're going to explain the procedure for ordering paper, right?
- S: That's right. We deal with a provider of office supplies for all our office equipment needs. So, we need to ensure that we order through them, because we provide us with a discount.
- T: Got it. Who's the supplier?
- S: It's Office Goods Pty Ltd. I have their catalogue here, and I also have the business card of the person whom I deal with directly. His name is Andrew McCabe.
- T: I see.
- S: So, every month, usually at the beginning of the month, I first check the inventory and prepare an order based on what we have in stock.
- T: Got it.

- S: Our paper supplies, and ink, are kept in the cabinet next to the printer. That is also where I keep the order sheet. I have blank copies printed so I can keep a record of the orders, but all the actual ordering happens online.
- T: I see.
- S: We order enough boxes of A4 and A3 printer paper to last the month. We don't experience that many changes month to month, so it's pretty much the same order each time, but I like to keep some spare packs of paper just in case something comes up.
- T: Okay.

T: Got it. 20 A4, and 15 A3.

S: That's right. Then, based on the number of boxes currently in stock, I place the order on the Office Goods website using our account. The account number is on the top of the order form, here, and the password is 'officesupplies', all one word, and all lower-case letters.

T: 'officesupplies'. Got it.

S: After you submit the order, it usually arrives in about 3 days. That's it.

T: It sounds pretty easy.

S: It is. I don't think you'll have a problem with it. But if you do, Beth also knows how to do it, so you can check with her.

Subject: Instructions for Ordering Office Supplies

Dear John,

I hope you're doing well. Since I'll be moving to a new department next month, you'll be taking over the task of ordering office supplies. I'd like to give you clear instructions on how to handle this responsibility:

1. At the beginning of each month, check our inventory in the cabinet near the printer.
2. Order enough paper to have 20 boxes of A4 and 15 boxes of A3 at the start of each month.
3. Place your order online using our Office Goods Pty Ltd account. The login details are on the order form in the cabinet. Delivery usually takes about three days.

Extra advice: Keep a few extra boxes as a backup to avoid shortages. If you ever have questions, Beth is also familiar with this procedure.

I'm sure you'll do great. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Taro Suzuki

As you would have read in the email, the purpose of today's meeting is to decide whether we should increase the overtime hours to cover all the work we have to do in the next month. So, first I'd like to hear everyone's opinions, and then we can move towards making a decision. Taro, can you go first?

S: Sure, I'd be happy to. So, let me just confirm one thing first: The idea is that we should increase the amount of allowed overtime, right? By that, I mean, we're not forcing people to do additional overtime, we're just changing the limits of what's possible in the department? Is my understanding correct?

T: Yes, that's right. Of course, we don't want to force people to work long hours, but I think everyone understands that when there is a lot of work to do, we all need to pitch in and help.

S: Okay, so the current overtime limit is forty hours per month, or roughly ten hours a week, right?

T: Yes, that's right.

S: Okay, in my opinion, that's already quite a lot. I mean, it's roughly an additional twenty-five percent of the standard forty-hour work week. So, I think we can increase, but not by much. I think fifty hours would be okay but I'm not sure about sixty. That would become an additional twenty hours a month, or a fifty-percent increase of the previous limit.

Subject: Opinion on Increasing Overtime Hours

Dear Mr. Jones,

Thank you for discussing the possibility of increasing overtime hours due to our current staff shortage.

I understand why this solution is being considered, but I believe increasing overtime is not the best idea. Here are my reasons:

1. Working too many extra hours can make staff tired and less productive.
2. Tired employees might make mistakes, affecting the quality of our work.

Instead, I suggest borrowing staff temporarily from other departments that aren't busy right now. This could help manage our workload without causing additional stress on our current staff.

Thank you for considering my opinion. I'm happy to discuss this further.

You work at the consulate in Sydney and are organizing a dinner party for 30 people for a visiting Japanese dignitary. The event is scheduled for three weeks from now. Last week, a local staff member booked a restaurant at your request. Today, that staff member informed you that the restaurant has double booked and is asking to change the date. However, you have already sent invitations, and the dignitary's schedule has been arranged around the dinner. Changing the date would cause significant inconvenience. Instruct the staff member to contact the restaurant and explore options. You are willing to adjust the time by an hour or two earlier, but not the date. You are also open to changing the location if the restaurant can help find an alternative of equal quality and price. If the new venue costs more, tell the restaurant they are expected to cover the difference.

S: I see. That makes sense, I guess. So, how do I go about making the payment?

"If I suddenly have to return to Japan, will there be any fees for ending the contract early?"

Writing Task Model

Subject: Questions About Renting the Apartment

Dear Real Estate Agent,

Thank you for showing me the apartment in Canberra. I liked it and would like to rent it. Before signing the contract, I have a few questions:

1. How much exactly do I need to pay to secure the apartment? Also, how can I make this payment?
2. After payment, when can I receive the keys to the apartment?
3. If I suddenly have to return to Japan, will there be any fees for ending the contract early?

Thank you for your assistance. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Best regards,
Taro Suzuki

T: I'm good thanks.

S: So, I've asked you here because I want to get your opinion on which hotel we should book for Mr. Kato and his associates. As you know, they will be visiting us next month when they attend the SDGs in Oceania conference.

T: I think the conference will be held at the Melbourne Conference and Exhibition Centre. Is that right?

S: Yes, that's correct. So somewhere nearby and within walking distance would be ideal.

T: Okay. I think the best option then is the Novotel at South Wharf.

S: Really? I thought the Pan Pacific would be better.

T: Certainly, the Pan Pacific is closer. But it's also more expensive. The Novotel is a little further away from the conference centre, but it's closer to the CBD and so it has better access to the embassy. Also, it's on the CBD side of the river. As you know, the area around the conference centre isn't that interesting.

S: Yes. I guess you are right.

T: At the same time, I think the Novotel might be cheaper than the Pan Pacific, while still providing good quality rooms and service.

S: Okay. Then I will contact the Novotel at South Wharf today and check their room availability. Thanks for your recommendation. It's been very helpful.

Subject: Hotel Suggestion for Conference Guests

Dear Susan,

Thank you for talking about hotel options with me today. I'd like to clearly recommend the Novotel at South Wharf for the dignitaries visiting Melbourne next month for the conference.

The Novotel is a good choice because it is close to the conference centre and easy to get to. It offers comfortable rooms, friendly service, and good prices, making it very good value.

The Pan Pacific is closer to the centre but costs more. The Novotel is a little further away but offers better access to the city centre and our consulate, making it more convenient overall.

I believe the Novotel is the best choice considering location, cost, and quality.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good morning, everyone.

My name is Taro Suzuki. I represent the Embassy of Japan in New Delhi. Thank you very much for inviting us to BizFest 2024. We are pleased to join you today.

The Embassy of Japan aims to build stronger relationships between Japan and India. Our main focus includes education, culture, and business cooperation. We understand how important universities, like Delhi University, are for developing future business leaders and entrepreneurs.

We work closely with universities to build strong connections between Japan and India. Events like BizFest are very important because they allow students and businesses from both countries to share ideas and work together.

I am looking forward to talking with you and answering your questions about our embassy and Japan's relationship with your university.

Thank you.

Subject: Japanese Cultural Event Proposal

Dear John san,

I hope you are well.

I'm writing to summarize our plan for the next Japanese cultural event, as discussed today.

We propose hosting an event focused on Japanese crafts, specifically ikebana (flower arranging). We considered other ideas like Sports Day, but we believe a craft event will be more appealing to local citizens in Sydney. Last year's sports-related event did not attract many visitors, so we think a craft activity will be more popular.

Ikebana is an excellent choice because it's interesting and cost-effective. We can keep costs low by using seasonal flowers from the embassy garden. We will only need to pay for an ikebana teacher to lead the session.

We believe this plan is very achievable and appealing to local people interested in Japanese culture. This event will be a good way to build connections and share Japanese culture in Sydney while staying within our budget.

Please let me know your thoughts or if you have any questions.

T: Right. I see. Okay, I will check with John.

S: As for the printer, what exactly is the damage?

T: It looks like the paper feed jammed, and it's been broken while trying to unjam it.

S: Hmmm. Okay, but we didn't have any problems with it. If we had, we would have needed to ask for repairs because we used it the entire time. It was important for us to be able to print and distribute regular updates to the conference attendees. If it had broken and become unusable during the conference, it would have been a big problem for us that would have needed to be addressed promptly.

T: I see. So you don't think it could have happened during the conference.

S: That's right. It must have happened after. And as I said, John went over everything. In fact, I think I still have the copy of inspection report. I can send it to you if you'd like.

T: No. That's okay. I'll talk again with John.

S: I'm sorry I can't help you. I hope you will let us come back to the hotel next spring. We enjoy working with you and your staff.

Subject: Damaged Equipment Issue

Dear Mr. Brown,

Thank you for your email about the equipment in the conference room we used at the Continental Hotel last week.

We were surprised to hear about this issue because the room was checked carefully by your staff immediately after our event, and no damage was reported at that time. We always make sure to leave the rooms in good condition, so this claim was unexpected.

To resolve this quickly and keep our good relationship, I suggest meeting at the hotel soon. We can review the reported damage together and discuss possible solutions. I believe this will help clear up any misunderstandings.

We greatly value our ongoing relationship with your hotel and look forward to using your facilities again in the future.

Please let me know a suitable time for this meeting.

Thank you for your understanding.

Subject: Catering for Upcoming Event

Dear Mary san,

I hope you're well.

Thank you for the discussion today regarding catering for our upcoming event.

I understand the appeal of using a caterer popular on social media for promoting our event. However, I strongly recommend choosing Best Foods again. We have worked with them several times, and they have always provided reliable service and excellent food quality.

Best Foods has proven their reliability and professionalism, especially during our last event when they successfully managed unexpected situations smoothly. Using them again will ensure the event runs without any issues, avoiding the risks involved with trying a new and untested caterer.

While social media exposure can be beneficial, I believe the success and smooth management of the event are most important. If necessary, we could explore other ways to promote the event online without risking service quality.

I hope we can agree on using Best Foods. Please let me know your thoughts.

Roleplay 1

You work at the consulate in Sydney and have a meeting with a local staff member. He wants to request a personal loan from the embassy to cover unexpected expenses. The embassy can approve this as an advance on his salary. However, you need to make the following clear: (1) You are reluctant to approve it, as it means his salary—paid in five weeks (two weeks after the end of the calendar-month pay period)—will be reduced. (2) He must agree to the conditions: the advance is limited to one-third of the monthly salary and can only be granted once. (3) Approval requires a special request to the head office in Tokyo, and a response may take several days.

Roleplay 2

You work at the consulate in Toronto. A local staff member, who has worked at the embassy for one year and has built good relationships, plans to move to Japan next month due to his strong interest in the country. He contacted a real estate agent in Tokyo and was told he needs a guarantor. Since he knows no one in Japan, he has asked you to be his guarantor. Although you like him, you don't know him well and are hesitant. Discuss the matter, explain your reluctance, and ask for his understanding. Then decide whether to accept or decline the request. If you accept, set conditions. If you decline, do so politely and suggest an alternative.

S: Hello Paul.

T: Hello Mr. Suzuki. Thanks for agreeing to meet with me.

S: No problem. What can I do for you?

T: I'm a little embarrassed to ask, but I need a loan, and I was hoping the embassy could help.

S: I see. What kind of loan.

T: I'm afraid I was involved in a car accident last week, and I'm sorry to say it was my fault. I have third party insurance, but the insurance company has told me it would be cheaper for me to pay the repair cost than process the claim because it will mean my insurance payments will go up in the long run.

S: I see. Why are you asking the embassy?

T: Well, as you know, I moved here six months ago, and I don't really have anyone who I can ask to help. As my employer, I'm hoping you can help.

S: How much do you need?

T: About 1,000 dollars.

S: I see. So, let me explain what the embassy can do. We do have a provision for this type of situation, and we can provide you with an advance on your salary. However, there are some limitations and conditions that you will have to agree to in writing before the payment can be processed.

T: I see. Thank you.

S: However, it is an advance, not a loan. It will be deducted from your scheduled salary payment in the middle of next month.

T: Oh, I see. That would make the next month quite difficult.

S: Also, this type of advance requires approval from the head office in Tokyo. It will take a few days to get approval and process the payment.

T: I see.

S: Do you want me to make the request to the head office?

T: Yes please.

S: Okay. There is some paperwork you will need to submit.

I'll email it to you today. After you return it to me, I'll submit the request to the head office. The advance will be deposited directly into your bank account within the next five business days.

T: I understand. Thank you very much for your help. I really appreciate it.

S: Oh, there is one more thing you need to understand. I am always reluctant to approve these types of requests. The reason for this is because this type of advance can only be granted once in an employee's career. You cannot request it again. Are you okay with that?

T: I see. I understand. Yes, I am okay with that. But I don't really have any other options. I appreciate your support.

Subject: Personal Loan Request - Summary

Dear Paul san,

Thank you for our discussion about your request for a salary advance. I'd like to summarize the key points clearly:

- The embassy can approve an advance payment, but there are important conditions.
- The maximum amount you can request is one-third of your next monthly salary.
- This advance payment means your next salary payment will be reduced accordingly.
- Such an advance can only be provided once during your employment.
- Approval from our head office in Tokyo is required, which usually takes a few days.

Please consider these conditions carefully. Let me know if you wish to proceed, and I'll start the approval process immediately.

If you have further questions, feel free to contact me.

Subject: Re: Return of Toshiba Laptop - Proposed Solution

Dear John,

Thank you for your quick response regarding the Toshiba laptop issue. I appreciate your efforts to investigate this matter.

However, I am not satisfied with your proposal to repair the laptop and charge me for replacing the damaged case. When I returned the laptop, it was carefully packaged and in good condition, apart from the original fault.

As the damage appears to have occurred during shipping, I believe it is unfair to expect me to pay for repairs, especially since the laptop was returned under warranty for an existing problem.

I kindly ask you to reconsider your decision and offer a fair solution according to the warranty terms. I trust we can resolve this issue quickly and amicably.

Thank you for your understanding. I look forward to your reply.

Best regards,

Roleplay 1

You work at the consulate in Sydney. You were involved in a minor car accident this morning. There was some damage to your vehicle. There are some bents and scratches on one of the panels. You believe you were driving safely and appropriately, and the other party was responsible for the collision. At the accident site, you exchanged insurance details with the other driver. You have now arrived at work. Call your insurance company, explain the situation, and make it clear that the other party needs to pay the full cost of the repairs.

Roleplay 1 Model

T: Good morning. Thank you for calling RACV Car insurance. This is Andrew. How may I help you today?

S: Hello Andrew. My name is Taro Suzuki. I have insurance with your organization. I need to report an accident.

T: I see. First Mr. Suzuki, are you okay? Do you need an ambulance?

S: No. I'm okay, thank you. The accident happened a little while ago. I am now at my office.

T: I see. Thank you for calling. Can I check some things first?

S: Of course. Go ahead.

T: Was another vehicle involved in the accident?

S: Yes, there was one other car involved.

T: I see. Did you get the contact information for the other driver?

S: Yes, I did.

T: Did you get the insurance information?

S: Yes, I did.

T: Okay, can you tell me what happened?

S: Okay. I was driving straight down Centre Road heading west from Bentleigh Station, heading towards the Nepean Highway. I was in the left lane. All of a sudden, the car in the right lane hit my car.

T: I see. Can you give me some more information about how the accident happened?

S: Yes. The driver merged into the left lane without checking.

He didn't see me and wasn't aware that I was already in the left-hand lane when he started merging. As a result, the front left side of his car hit the back right bumper of my car.

T: I see. How bad is the damage?

S: It's not too bad, to be honest. However, the driver said there was room for him to merge into the lane, and I must have slowed down after he started to merge, causing the accident. That's just not true, and I don't think I should have to pay anything for an accident that is not my fault.

T: I see. I need to ask you to fill out an online accident report on our website. Just go to RACV.com, and click 'Make a claim' and then choose 'Car insurance claims' and it will take you through the online claim process.

S: Okay, I will do that. How long will it take to process the claim? I'd like to get the car fixed asap. I don't think it's roadworthy in its current condition.

T: We will need to conduct an investigation. They usually take a week or two. We will let you know.

S: I see. Okay, I will make the claim today.

Subject: Accident Report and Insurance Claim

Dear RACV Claims Department,

I am writing to report a car accident that happened earlier today and to request your assistance with my claim.

The accident occurred at around 8:30 a.m. on Centre Road, close to Bentleigh Station. I was driving in the left lane when another driver suddenly merged from the right lane without checking for traffic. His vehicle hit mine, causing damage to the right side of my car.

The other driver said I slowed down suddenly, causing the accident. However, this is not correct. I was driving safely and at a steady speed. He merged without properly checking if the lane was clear. Therefore, I believe his insurance should cover the full repair costs.

I've already completed the accident report form online. Please process this claim as soon as possible because my car is not safe to drive in its current condition.

Thank you very much for your assistance. Please contact me if you need any additional information.

Best regards,
Taro Suzuki

T: Okay, so as you know from the email I sent you all last week, we're here today to discuss how we can reduce costs. You've each had some time to think about how costs can be reduced in your departments, and I'd like to go around the table and ask each of you to share your ideas one by one. Let's start with you, Taro.

S: Okay John. Thanks for letting me go first. I've been considering how we can cut costs, and I've come up with, I think, three possible ways of doing so. Let me share them and get your feedback.

T: Okay, go ahead.

S: Well, the first idea is to reduce the amount of overtime hours worked. There is a lot of double

of documents being processed, for example, for visa applications, and I think a lot of that can be centralized in Tokyo. If our document processing systems can be aligned with the systems in Tokyo, and we move towards digitization of documents, then with a secure network we should be able to quickly and easily transfer documents and rapidly increase processing times. I often think our systems are currently overly bureaucratic and are slowed down by the excessive level of checking

T: That's not a bad idea. I have a meeting tomorrow with Tokyo. I'll bring it up and see what the response is. Do you have any other ideas?

S: Well, yes, I do. It's similar to the first one, inasmuch as it is a reflection of manpower. I was thinking that we could cut the number of part time staff we have. Usually, there are 4 staff in the office at any time, but that's not always needed. I thought that on some days, we could get by with just three.

T: Hmmm. I'm not sure about that, but it's certainly something we will have to consider. Let me think about that one. You said you have three ideas. What is the third one?

S: Okay. So, the last one is small perhaps, but I was thinking we could turn off the lights when we don't need them. Often there are parts of the building where the lights are on all day, but are rarely used. Also, I think we could turn all the lights off at lunchtime. Overtime, it could add up.

T: An interesting idea, and easy enough to implement. Sure, let's do it.

S: Great.

Subject: Cost Reduction Ideas for Next Quarter

Dear Mr. Addams,

Thank you for our recent budget meeting. Based on our discussion, I've put together the following proposals to help reduce costs next quarter:

1. Energy-Saving Actions:

- Change regular lights to energy-saving LED bulbs.
- Set clear rules for turning off lights and equipment when not in use.

Reason: This will lower our electricity bills and support our environmental goals.

2. Better Purchasing Practices:

- Buy office supplies in bulk to get discounts.
- Review current suppliers to find better prices.

Reason: Bulk buying will help us save money on everyday office supplies.

3. Review Travel Costs:

- Require advance approval for all business trips.
- Encourage using less expensive travel options.

Reason: Careful planning will help reduce unnecessary travel expenses.

4. Use More Virtual Meetings:

- Hold meetings online instead of traveling.
- Improve our current technology to support better virtual meetings.
